

Manager, Labour Relations (temporary)

We are seeking an experienced professional on temporary basis for thirteen (13) months to provide labour relations and human resources advice to BC's 60 public school districts. We would also welcome and encourage qualified employees from a School District seeking a secondment arrangement for this temporary position.

You will be a primary LR Liaison assigned to a client group of school districts, providing advice and guidance on a full range of labour relations and human resources activities and initiatives. Exercising a high degree of judgement and knowledge of LR/HR issues in a unionized environment, you will support districts with the administration and interpretation of collective agreements and provide advice on terms and conditions of employment, employee discipline and terminations, recruitment and selection, and performance evaluation.

As part of our team of knowledgeable and collegial labour relations professionals, you will also participate in a variety of special projects and initiatives including supporting districts as they carry out local collective bargaining as well as participating in the delivery of training/professional development sessions on a variety of human resource topics.

Whether you are working with our client boards of education, provincial government representatives, management associations, or union representatives, you have a well-earned reputation for consistent, high-quality strategic thinking, solution-oriented decision-making, and establishing effective and robust working relationships. In addition to relevant education, experience, and sound technical writing skills, you have a strong client focus and commitment to deliver a consistently high caliber of service.

You possess a minimum of five years of related experience providing information and advice on a full range of labour relations/human resource matters. In addition, you possess a post-secondary degree in a related field supplemented by relevant professional development. Experience working in a school district would be a definite asset.

We offer a competitive compensation plan and a collegial work environment. Qualified individuals are invited to apply online on Make a Future at <https://bit.ly/38ymn9w> with a cover letter and résumé, by Wednesday, September 15, 2021. Please specify in your cover letter that you are interested in the temporary full-time vacancy.
